“ As spoken language emerges, it is important for young children to be offered a wide range of creative experiences with which to communicate.

Our Discover Programme is designed to offer children unlimited lenses through which to communicate their thoughts and feelings about the world, for their unique voice to be heard and for us to be able to scaffold their ideas into meaningful learning experiences. ”

Programme Options

The Blue House Discover Programme introduces your child to a wide range of creative mediums designed to take children through a learning journey of unlimited potential, exploring language, culture, literacy, story telling, sounds, rhythm, numerical concepts, patterns, science and most importantly, the power of creative expression.

Children may join one or more Discover classes per week on an optional basis each term, aligning to their interests and chosen inspiration.

We encourage families to design a programme for your child tailored to their interests and stages of development with a combination of Discover Classes and Full Days. We also encourage you to consider a schedule that you can commit to, enabling your child to fully engage and invest in the body of work and relationships they will encounter through this journey each term.

Please note that Discover Classes cannot be combined with a full day programme. We encourage parents to plan a programme that includes Full Days and Discover Classes on different days of the week, and we present a schedule that provides for those options.

What classes are offered?

We are pleased to offer a series of Discover Classes on a weekly basis hosted by our in-house Specialist Educators in Art, Music and Mandarin.
